

from Customs House Cigars

Welcome to The Perfecto, Customs House Cigars' bi-monthly newsletter.

Why The Perfecto? "We chose this type of cigar as the name of our newsletter because of its positive connotations," explains proprietor Ian Wilson.

The shape of the perfecto cigar tapers at both ends and can be different lengths. It's a flexible shape, as will be this newsletter.

"I hope you read and learn more about cigars through The Perfecto. Enjoy!"

Fun Facts

Cigars are made of three types of tobacco leaves. The variations of these leaves establish the smoking and flavor characteristics, specifically – binders, fillers and wrappers.

Cigar tobacco is grown in Brazil, Cameroon, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Honduras, Indonesia, Mexico, Nicaragua, Philippines, and the United States.

An experienced roller can produce at least 120 cigars a day.

Ian's Gift Pick

One of the finest cigar books I've seen is The World of the Habano, a hard-cover coffee table book with 190 pages packed with detailed info.

What makes this book a true reference guide to the cigar world is the sheer depth of knowledge, as well as the stunning photography.

The 8.5" x 11.75" book comes with a companion CD version.

It also features a ring gauge guide to determine the thickness of a cigar in metric or imperial measures. This is an outstanding value at just $24.95.

Extensive descriptions of all Cuban cigar brands and the methods and styles of packaging are shown.

Learn how cigars are made, from field to factory, and the history going back two centuries.

This is a must-have guide for cigar aficionados, indeed for anyone interested in Cuban cigars.

"If smoking is not allowed in heaven, I shall not go."
